PREFATORY NOTE.

This little booklet or guide to the exhibit in the Lincoln Room, Illinois Building, Sesqui-Centennial Exposition, Philadelphia, is prepared with the idea of aiding the visitor to locate the letters, legal documents, pictures, books, cartoons, music, relics, etc., in the exhibit.

The pictures on the wall are numbered and a corresponding number will be found in the booklet giving the name of artist or engraver. The flat wall cases depicting the life of Lincoln are chronologically arranged, as follows, Ancestry of Lincoln, Youth of Lincoln, Lincoln at New Salem, etc.

The floor cases contain cartoons, Civil War envelopes, legal documents, letters, music, medals and relics. These you will find in the booklet under their various heads.

The Illinois State Historical Library at Springfield, Illinois, has in its Lincoln Collection 3,500 volumes on Lincoln, one hundred of these in foreign languages; this does not include books on the Civil War.

The original letters, legal documents, etc., are reproduced for this exhibit, and many of the best known works on the life of Lincoln are displayed.

We are indebted to Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.; Brown University, Providence, R. I.; Library of Congress; The Chicago Historical Society; The Grand Army of the Republic, Memorial Hall, Chicago, Mr. C. E. Vaugh, Custodian; The McLean County Historical Society, Bloomington, Ill.; Mr. Edward G. Miner, Rochester, N. Y.; Mr. William E. Townsend of Lexington, Ky.; Mr. Oliver H. Barrett of Chicago; Mr. Alexander W. Hannah, Kenilworth, Ill.; Mr. H. W. Fay, Custodian, Lincoln Monument, Springfield; The Lincoln Centennial Association, Mr. Paul M. Angle, Secretary; Hon. Logan Hay, Springfield, Ill.; Mr. Edward W. Payne, Springfield, Ill.; Mr. William Patterson, Chicago; Mrs. Walter L. Patteson, Springfield, Ill.; Mr. G. W. Morton of Beardstown, Ill.; Mr. J. C. Thompson of Springfield, Ill.; and many other Lincoln collectors for their generous aid in allowing their documents, letters, pictures, etc., to be reproduced and shown to add to the interest of the exhibit.

GEORGIA L. OSBORNE,
Acting Librarian, Illinois State Historical Library.
